

We are pleased to share this opportunity on behalf of Jasper Place Wellness Centre (JPWC), a valued community partner delivering primary care services. JPWC is dedicated to building stronger, healthier communities by addressing inequities in health, housing, and employment. Their work includes community-based healthcare, affordable and program-based housing, and social enterprises that create meaningful employment opportunities.

This position is with JPWC and not with EWPCN however, we are sharing it with our broader network because of the valuable services they offer and the impact they make in the community. NURSE PRACTITIONER

The Opportunity:

We are seeking an experienced, compassionate Nurse Practitioner to provide high-quality, patient-centered care to individuals and families in our community. This role offers flexibility in employment structure—the successful candidate may choose to join us as an employee of JPWC or work as an independent contractor.

You will thrive in an interdisciplinary team environment, champion health equity, and be passionate about promoting wellness, preventing illness, and managing chronic and acute conditions. If you want to make a meaningful impact in community health alongside professionals who share your values, we want to hear from you

About Us:

Our Primary Care Clinic is a leader in community-driven healthcare, known for driving systemic change through innovative projects and bold, people-centered solutions. We influence policy, pilot groundbreaking initiatives, and collaborate directly with the communities we serve to build healthier, more equitable futures.

We operate within a holistic model that addresses physical health, mental wellness, and social well-being as interconnected needs. We deliver comprehensive, team-based care through primary care providers, allied health professionals, and social supports—all rooted in dignity, compassion, and person-centered care.

Our mission is clear: meet people where they're at, remove barriers, and build long-term relationships that support better health outcomes.

In this role, you can expect to:

- To be apart of a small allied health team as part of the patient medical home model who are passionate about holistic health care
- Conduct comprehensive patient assessments, including physical exams and detailed medical histories
- Develop and implement individualized care plans, prescribe medications, order diagnostic tests, and provide treatments within your scope of practice
- Provide counseling and education on health maintenance, disease prevention, and lifestyle management
- Collaborate with interdisciplinary healthcare teams to ensure seamless, coordinated patient care
- Facilitate health education workshops and community wellness initiatives
- Serve as a trusted resource for patients and community members on health and wellness topics
- Build strong partnerships with community organizations to enhance healthcare access
- Monitor patient outcomes and adjust care plans to ensure effective chronic and acute condition management
- Participate in the evaluation and development of clinic policies and procedures
- Maintain accurate, up-to-date patient records in compliance with regulatory standards
- Contribute to regular reporting on patient care outcomes, program effectiveness, and community needs
- Support quality improvement initiatives and adherence to health and safety protocols

Qualifications:

- Completion of a recognized Nurse Practitioner Program
- Active registration with the College of Registered Nurses of Alberta (CRNA) in the Family/All Ages Stream
- Basic Life Support CPR (CPR-BLS)
- Experience in assessment, treatment, therapeutic interventions, and community-based care, particularly with mental health and substance use challenges
- Passion for team based patient care as part of the medical home model
- Proficiency with electronic medical records and healthcare information systems
- Excellent communication, organizational, and problem-solving skills
- Strong commitment to equity, inclusivity, and culturally sensitive care
- In-depth understanding of community health principles and healthcare systems
- Ability to work collaboratively with interdisciplinary teams and community stakeholders

- Empathy, patience, understanding, and respect for individuals facing challenging circumstances
- Commitment to maintaining confidentiality and professional boundaries

What We Offer:

- Flexible Schedule
- Comprehensive health, dental, and vision care
- Life insurance
- RRSP matching program
- Paid time off
- Flexible scheduling
- Casual dress code
- On-site parking

Applications:

To apply, please send your resume and cover letter to hr@jpwc.ca

The position will be posted until a suitable candidate is found, so we invite you to submit your application as soon as possible. We are also happy to accept referrals if you know other Nurse Practitioners who are seeking to establish a patient panel.
